NEW ORLEANS was a provincial French-and-Spanish town for nearly a century before it became a part of the United States. When the Americans came in 1803 they found a civilized Latin city with its theatres and circuses, its masquerade balls and duels, its opera and bullfights; and the first Americans found New Orleans as different from the cities of the Atlantic seaboard as though Louisiana had been another continent. Men of many nations added to the cosmopolitan life: from the West Indian Islands had come refugees and emigres bringing with them their culture and sophistication, their gaiety and vices; and always, like a black thread in the tapestry's pattern, the Negro slaves intermingled, giving vividness to the city's color and design. From its earliest days there was a strange combination of wealth and poverty, elegance and brutality.

Nearby, in the sea-marsh of Barataria, smugglers and pirates held possession, and the overland trails leading north and east were infested by bandits and hostile Indians; and a trip by sailing ship from New Orleans to Philadelphia, New York or Baltimore was a dangerous adventure. So the old walled city of Nouvelle Orleans was as alone in the lush wilderness of Louisiana as though it stood on a tropical island. Within its irregular walls grew up men and women unlike any other group in the United States.

Then in 1803 the Americans came and a new era began. And yet, more than a century later, it is impossible to think of New Orleans without thinking of its gaudy past. Even the street names are full of romance, each one telling its story to those who are willing to listen.

And so it seems fitting that this issue of the "Jambalaya", the official yearbook of historic Tulane University, should remind us of the fabulous but true stories of old New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS THE UNIQUE

NONE of the world's large cities has enjoyed a more picturesque existence than New Orleans. Each of the four flags which has fluttered over it has left an indelible tint, resulting in the varicolored complexion which New Orleans singularly possesses. The first flag was the Fleur-de-Lis, planted by Bienville in 1718 for France, after which were hoisted the flags of Spain, the Confederacy and the United States. Under such circumstances, it seems unnecessary to classify the bevy of races and classes which have settled here and called themselves New Orleanians—suffice it to say that the conglomeration has always been a happy one, although most unusual. Its élite, "bon vivants," creoles, pirates, Spaniards, French, Irish, Italians, mulattoes, and "niggers" have all been jostled together for some occasion or another—and tolerated it. These occasions were many; a war, a duel, a quadroon ball, Friday at the French Market, services at the St. Louis Cathedral, a night at the Old French Opera House and Mardi Gras. This cosmopolitan conviviality is typical of New Orleans and makes it unusual and interesting. A stroll through the Vieux Carre will convince the most skeptical that the architecture of New Orleans likewise has been diversified by the four flags. Such diversity is singular, hence New Orleans the Unique.

Since Tulane University is such an integral part of New Orleans, and both are unique because of a jambalaya of races, countries and habits, the editors thought that this theme would provide excellent decoration for Tulane's "Jambalaya." We proceed with the Fleur-de-Lis as an emblem. May it meet with your approval.

THE editors have made a sincere attempt to portray the collegiate year unprejudiciously. Our purpose—to please the entire student body and not to feature the “big-shot” at the expense of the average Tulanian, for whom this annual is published. Our prayer—that our purpose will be achieved and that you will not place this 1938 volume in the category labeled—“Stereotyped Jambalayas.” If in the years to come you will frequently turn these pages to relive your 1937-1938 term at Tulane, our prayer will be answered, our efforts will not have been in vain.

These eminent physicians laid the foundation for Tulane's nationally famous Medical School—for New Orleans' wonderful medical center. Note the freshman still chatting with Doctor Cenas—the 1800 boys tried to "soft-soap" professors too.

A MESSAGE FROM

I have started my new duties as President of Tulane University under most auspicious circumstances. For the cooperation and support of all connected with the administration, the faculty, the students and the alumni, I am grateful. The administration has sought to make more amenable the government of the University, and the administrative staff has been increased to some extent to relieve the President of many laborious details. The faculty, by which a University is chiefly judged, in addition to adopting improved teaching methods and inaugurating more stimulating classes, has undertaken research work which will do much to reflect to the credit of the University and to inspire students. The students have adopted a spirit of learning and companionship, by which attitude they themselves will profit and the University attain its objects. The alumni have renewed their interest in the University, and as a large proof of this have undertaken to give to the University a new Student Center Building. I hope each alumnus may see in this building the spirit of his own student days and the realization of student dreams.

I cannot look ahead without looking back over the past century, without examining the background we have acquired, without interpreting what we may expect from the future in terms of that background. Our predecessors have put into this institution their great spirits, their high ideals, their determination to face reality, and in turn have imposed upon us the duty to help preserve the civilization of the world and of the South. With that duty, goes the obligation of guarding the privilege of free thinking, of free expression of truth, of free investigation of the problems that confront us. Bricks and mortar and money and material things have not made Tulane University. Indeed, such things are notably lacking which are regarded by many as necessities. But the intangible qualities of character have given it the standing it has attained, the position it holds. We have a firm foundation upon which to continue our growth.

In what direction then shall we grow? This book may show the trend we have followed for the past year. Only a bird's-eye view of this year will inform us whether or not it has been relatively important. I hope it has. I hope that higher Education may have a new grasp upon the South through Tulane University.

PRESIDENT

ROGER P. MCCUTCHEON

Ph.D. from Harvard, Professor of English, Dean of the Graduate School—and a regular fellow, say his students and associates. Co-author of two textbooks, contributor to many periodicals, scholar, humanitarian—"Doctor Mac" withal is ever ready and able to lick the best on the golf links.

JAMES ADAIR LYON

Native Pennsylvanian—now Chairman, Courses for Teachers. Energetic, indulgent, genuine. He loves people, conviviality;—evidence—he initiated both the Tulane and Newcomb Book Stores. His main love is photography. Dr. Lyon was in charge of photographing the Solar Eclipse of May, 1900, at Leander McCormick Observatory, Winnsborough, S. C. Other interests—Auto mechanics and driving.

ANNA E. MANY

No stern disciplinarian, but rather a quiet, understanding woman, who performs her duty as Counselor to Women by knowing each girl. A graduate of Newcomb, she is imbued with its rich tradition. Result—all the more able to inspire, assist, and reach the hearts of her girls. Miss Many is more than "the bestest friend a girl could have." Hobbies—badminton and golf.

GUIDING

"Tulane's New Deal" is what everyone is saying since the beginning of the 1937-1938 session and the advent of new President Rufus C. Harris and recently appointed deans Marten ten Hoor of Arts and Sciences; Paul D. Brosman of Law; Roger P. McCutcheon of the Graduate School; and Elizabeth Wisner of the School of Social Work, which heretofore she has governed as director.

Immediately upon assuming office, President Harris began his program of expansion. The aim—a bigger and better Tulane; the watchword—onward. Many new and needed courses were added, departments were enlarged, and new faces have appeared in every branch of the University. Altogether, ninety-two members of the faculty, administrative staff and office personnel have been annexed since last session.

A new department, Public Speaking and Dramatic Arts, was added to the curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences. The Law School, for the first time in its history, conducted a summer session, offering four major courses which were well attended and a great success. The Department of Graduate Medicine was consolidated with the School of Medicine, thus broadening the facilities of both. The Department of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering was split into separate departments, thus allowing each to deal more specifically with its subject and lessening the overlapping of courses. President Harris and the new administration have literally worked wonders with the physical plant. Most outstanding of the many improvements, to the average student, was the renovated and modernized refectory, which now houses the Book Store and Post Office. Returning students found the porch glassed in, modernistic furniture throughout, and a flagstone terrace under the trees in front—an ideal spot in the fall and spring months.

Gibson Hall was renovated by the enlarging and modernization of offices, the refinishing of woodwork, and the addition of new equipment where possible. Dr. ten Hoor was appointed custodian of the building and has introduced several regulations regarding smoking, bill-posting, etc., that are intended to prolong the present appearance of the structure.

The biggest building project realized this year was the rounding out of the stadium into a horseshoe, accomplished by joining the north ends of the concrete stands with steel stands. Another long-felt need that promises fulfillment in the near future is the erection of a Student

PAUL W. BROSMAN

Pep, youth, vitality—he walks with it, thinks with it, in short, he lives with it. A J.S.D. from Yale, the Dean of the College of Law is a recognized legal authority, writer, scholar, and bon vivant. Greatest pleasure—a nightly novel, before going to sleep. He collects "Red-Seal" phonograph records, has his before-dinner highball daily.

CHARLES C. BASS

Mississippi country boy, now Dean of the School of Medicine. M.D., Tulane; LL.D., Duke; D.Sc., London, and F.A.C.P. Dr. Bass assisted Gorgas in the discovery of the yellow fever germ. His preference—Research Medicine. An inveterate coffee drinker—he is often off to the nearest cafe.

MARTEN TEN HOOR

Musician, philosopher, teacher, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. At the helm of the largest department—a man with his love, sympathy, and knowledge of youth is necessary. Never gets up early, but once up shares Dr. Brosman's vitality. His hobbies—analyzing handwriting, reading detective stories.

TULANE

JAMES M. ROBERT

Affectionately called Dean "Jimmy" of the College of Engineering. Got his B.E. at Tulane while shy one and a half years of high school. Pet hates—smoking, narrow-mindedness, and pettiness of soul. Gets up early, goes to bed early, likes the out-doors, and good music. His controlling interest—youth and its development.

MORTON A. ALDRICH

He built the College of Commerce in 1914—is still its Dean. The type who remains until the last of the work is completed—but plays equally hard. Up at four each morning, he reads until nine. Predilection—his hunting and fishing lodge, where his spare time is spent among "cajuns," who think him a god.

ELIZABETH WISNER

Author, braintruster, counselor, Dean of the School of Social Work. A.B. from Newcomb, Ph.D. from Chicago University. Her unselfishness, love of mankind, spurred her on—made her worthy to serve the suffering. Is a member of the Social Security Board. Hobbies—traveling and hunting up old houses.

GUIDING

Center Building, where student gatherings may be held, and which should contribute to a closer-knit student body. On November 12th the Alumni Association, led by Judge Janvier, announced the drive for funds for the project, and it was carried forward with such enthusiasm that its success is assured.

What was one of the most significant events of the school year took place on the morning of October 12, when the honor system was officially reinstated in the College of Arts and Sciences. On that morning the student body of the college gathered in the Assembly Room to hear Dean ten Hoor explain the system and the sixty outstanding members of the college who were chosen to serve on the board take the oath of acceptance.

The gala event of the year was the inauguration of President Harris on January 18. The ceremonies were attended by delegates from universities throughout the nation, most noted of whom was Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, young and progressive president of the University of Chicago. The formal exercises culminated a three-day program which included a series of symposia on "Current Trends in University Education." The program began January 16 with a concert by the 300-voice Tulane-Newcomb festival choir. On January 17, the symposia took place, and on January 18, the formal inaugural ceremonies were performed.

The enthusiasm and accomplishments shown by the extra-curricular organizations marked the school year as one of unusual progress. The Cotillion Club sponsored a series of "name Band" dances that were enjoyed by thousands. A new activity, the Tulane Theatre, was organized, and its first presentation, "Three Cornered Moon," was so well staged that the success of the group is assured. The Tulane Glee Club, having 90 members, and that of Newcomb, numbering over 200, distinguished themselves on several occasions, most notable of which was a NBC broadcast, which won them national acclaim.

There were certain administrative branches established during the session that have been particularly active. Outstanding is the Tulane News Bureau which, under J. H. Randolph Feltus, Assistant to the President, supervises news releases to the press, thus assuring that the public is adequately and correctly informed regarding Tulane's activities.

From the brief outline above, the editors hope that they have indicated the remarkable progress made in the 1937-1938 session by the new administration toward a bigger and better Tulane.

FRANS BLOM

Director, Department of Middle American Research. Educated in Copenhagen, Denmark, he received his M.A. from Harvard. Became interested in archeology while working with an oil company in Mexico, later in charge of Harvard's Guatemala Expedition. It is he who put Tulane's Department on the top. Prefers riding mules in Mexico to driving cars in America.

PIERCE BUTLER

Author, scholar, teacher, Dean of Newcomb College. Educated entirely at home before entering college, he received his Ph.D. from Johns-Hopkins. Of his many books, the most famous—"Life of Judah P. Benjamin." His works on Shakespeare are authorities. Prefers chess and solitaire for relaxation.

J. H. RANDOLPH FELTUS

Diplomat, executive, Assistant to President, Director of Public Relations. A beaming personality behind a quiet, reserved front makes friends and influences people immediately. His ability—the ideal answer to a president's prayer. Randy's hobbies—collecting pipes and bird hunting.

Adelina Patti, famous soprano, sings her debut in the ornate French Opera House. Although she was only 17 years old, Miss Patti's premiere performance received the ovation of a seasoned prima donna. Her beauty is said to have characterized the charming creole belle—at all times typical of New Orleans.

INTERESTING

Here's our toast to a "swell fellow."
He was not chosen because he is a big shot—although one he might well be.
Qualifications: his keen sense of humor, his ever-present smile, his helping hand always extended. You've seen him about and often mentioned "he's one of the best."

MAURICE H. BORN
Graduate Manager of Student Activities

The form of student government now employed by the Associated Students of Tulane University is in its twenty-third year of existence.

Democracy is the basis for governing the affairs of the student body, and while the system has been refined and altered from time to time, this principle has been steadfastly adhered to.

The Constitution, as it stands today, provides for the administration of all student affairs through a Student Council comprised of six members, all elected by popular vote from each of the colleges making up the University. The Constitution further authorizes the Council to employ a Graduate Manager of Student Activities, whose duties are to act as the agent of the Council in all matters, to keep accurate records of all transactions, and to act as a general advisor to the Council in all its undertakings.

JOHN ADAMS, NORMAN BUCKNER, CHARLOTTE HAWKINS

The members of the 1937-38 Student Council are: R. Miller Upton, President, Commerce; John Powell Adams, Vice-President, Medicine; Norman Buckner, Secretary, Arts and Sciences; Joseph Riorda, Engineering; Alvin G. Montgomery, Law; and Miss Charlotte Hawkins, Newcomb College. Maurice H. Born, B.B.A., was selected in the summer of 1937 to succeed J. H. Randolph Feltus in the office of Graduate Manager.

The entire student fee is handled through the Student Activities Office, along with all other revenue arising from advertising sold in the various publications and donations from the other departments of the University. The receipt and disbursement of these funds are accurately recorded and audited annually by the University auditors.

ANN PENDERGAST
Secretary to the Graduate Manager

The Student Council Key is awarded annually to the Student Body President of each of Tulane's six colleges.

Cooperating this year with the Alumni Association, the Student Council joined with that organization in canvassing local graduates of the University for contributions to the proposed Student Center. In this capacity, Mr. Born was charged with formulating student committees to call on and solicit contributions from the graduates. No funds were solicited from students themselves, nor were contributions accepted from them, it being the desire of the Alumni Association that the Student Center be built for the students and not by them.

WITH THE FOURTH TULANE'S HULLABALOO

With a view towards the fulfillment of their principal objective, that of publicizing student and faculty activities, thought and opinion, the editors of The Hullabaloo sought this year to give to the institution it serves an impartial documentation of university life. Feeling that no institution of higher learning can healthily survive in an atmosphere in which intellectual freedom is suppressed, and believing they had the support of students and faculty in this opinion, the editors sought to promulgate the fact that no threat to the democratic traditions which are the heritage of American universities would be tolerated. Conditions existent in many foreign nations and the infiltration of propaganda from these nations offer a threat to this heritage. The success or failure of this threat rests largely with the opinion voiced by American youth.

CHARLES SEEMANN
Business Manager

There is no better way of informing our governmental leaders of our attitude than through university publications.

The paper adhered to its policy of printing only university news, the editors feeling that if they gave the campus adequate coverage they were fulfilling their purpose. The only exception was a special feature column, "In the Front Row," in which the writer sought to give the students' views on national affairs.

Being the official publication of the Tulane student body, The Hullabaloo is written entirely by students, under the direction of an editor and business manager, appointed by a Publications Board. Innovations this year included minor changes in make-up and a column, "With the Grads," which treated solely with news concerning the university's graduates. We appreciate assistance from journalism students in campus news coverage.

THE JAMBALAYA

You are turning the pages of the 43rd volume of THE JAMBALAYA. Your complete satisfaction is the goal which the editors hope they have attained. We had hoped that this JAMBALAYA would be the first to carry the theme, "New Orleans, The Unique." However, as the NBC Varsity Show was in quest of a suitable theme for Tulane Night, we submitted ours, which was immediately accepted. Our characters were given speech and presented over the nation. We have included pictures of the broadcast in our snapshot section, and it should prove interesting to compare our artist's conception of Jean LaFitte, Adelina Patti, and the others with their vocal depicTERS, the "Varsity Showsters."

Much of a year-book, the class, fraternity, and organization sections, always seem stereotyped. In these, there is very little reason for change. However, we used the most modern medium that expenses would permit to portray the rest of college life at Tulane.

As to our staff, the editor-in-chief and the business manager are selected from the staff by the Publications Board. Seniority on the staff, quality of work, and the general scholastic average of the student are taken into consideration by the Board in making the appointments. Other positions are named by the respective heads of the staffs.

LAW REVIEW

The Tulane Law Review is a quarterly legal periodical published by the faculty and honor students of the Tulane College of Law. It is devoted primarily to the study of the civil law, comparative law, and statutory interpretation.

The work of the Review is borne chiefly by a Student Board of Editors, composed of Junior and Senior law students who have attained the highest scholastic honors in the College. They are assisted by a Board of Alumni Editors, a Board of Advisory Editors, and a staff of Contributing Editors.

The benefits of law review work lie mainly in the opportunities for discussion of current legal problems, for legal research, and for expository legal writing. The Board prides itself upon its use of the comparative method of legal study, a method which exposes the praiseworthy qualities as well as the shortcomings of different juridical systems. This method is of particular importance in Louisiana, where the civil law and the common law have long vied in a struggle for supremacy.

Although most of the student material published in the Review is written by members of the Board, its pages are open to all contributions that meet its standards of scholarship, research and literary style. In addition to the student material, the Review also published articles of interest written by members of the legal profession.

Since its foundation in 1929 as the successor to the Southern Law Quarterly, the Tulane Law Review has gained prominence both in the United States and abroad as a leading journal of civil and comparative law.

MOOT COURT

COMPETITION

The Moot Court system in the College of Law is especially designed to train students in the preparation and argument of cases. Technical training in research, brief writing and forensics—ordinary tools in the trade of a lawyer—form the foundation of the moot court work, but the system gives an even higher type of training.

The moot court rule abolishes the system of precedents and compels argument of cases on their merits. The student must weigh the social factors and must concentrate upon the functioning of the rule of law. This freedom makes the moot court an excellent laboratory for the testing and comparison of the older theories that the law is deductive, formal and arbitrary, with the newer theory that the judge exercises a directive force to make law conform to social needs.

The Moot Court Competition at Tulane was patterned after that of the Ames Competition at Harvard. The original club system was eventually displaced in order to encourage individual participation and a keener rivalry. The Board of Advisers has extended its services in framing trial cases for any Seniors desiring them.

The entire management of the Tulane Moot Court system is committed to the above-mentioned board, selected on the basis of scholastic standing, thus additionally tending to develop a sense of public responsibility.

In the academic year of 1936-37, the Tulane Moot Court Competition was won by Charles Marshall and Ashton Phelps.

ASSOCIATION

JOSEPH L. KILLEEN, LL.B., 1916
President

After spending several years at Tulane in close contact with fellow students and faculty members, the student acquires a keen appreciation of the problems of the University and a lively interest in the progress and advancement of his classmates. The Alumni Association is the established medium for promoting the welfare of the University among its former students and for keeping them posted on the careers of their classmates.

The Association was incorporated in 1898 by a small group of enthusiastic graduates. Today it keeps a complete file of all the graduates of the University and is preparing to publish an alumni directory. In addition it has clubs established in towns and cities scattered throughout America.

The association endeavors to keep the graduates informed on the needs and problems of the various departments of the University and to stimulate their sympathetic cooperation. It is now engaged in the task of raising funds for the erection of a Student Center building on the campus.

The Tulane University Rooters Klub was formed six years ago at the University for the purpose of promoting more school spirit during the football season and assisting in all school functions throughout the year. The membership is limited to fifty Tulane and Newcomb students and admission is had by invitation only. Each year new members are selected for their outstanding school spirit, and their willingness to cooperate and work for the University.

During the past year the "TURKS," with the assistance of the student body, planned and carried out fine card displays at the Ole Miss, Auburn and Georgia football games. At Homecoming they sponsored a gigantic bonfire, pep meeting and parade before the game. The TURKS also selected and trained the cheerleaders. Other good work was done in cooperating with other organizations in putting over Tulane functions.

In their six years of existence the Tulane University Rooters Klub have through their earnest effort and success attained an important and secure position on the campus and the Klub's future outlook is extremely bright.

T U L A N E

The Tulane University Theatre is the outgrowth of a movement which began fifteen years ago. It was in 1922 that the Tulane Dramatic Guild was organized. Since that time, its rise and decline has been the object of much discussion on the campus. This fall the Dramatic Guild was succeeded by the Tulane University Theatre. Both for the purpose of establishing this organization and inaugurating a department of speech and theatre at Tulane, the University chose Monroe Lippman.

This year to facilitate production and to provide a more efficient play-producing organization, both the Tulane Dramatic Guild and the Newcomb Dramatic Club were disbanded. None of the members of these former groups automatically became members of the University Theatre, as membership in the latter organization may be earned only by participation in the cast or on the production crew of one of the theatre's productions. Membership is strictly non-elective and is open to students and faculty of all colleges of the University upon the fulfillment of the one necessary requirement: work.

The first play of the season was the Broadway success, "Three Cornered Moon," by Gertrude Tonkonogy. It was the result of the efforts of some thirty-five students who did all of the work on the production. There was no outside help employed and the students designed, constructed and painted the sets themselves as well as managed business and publicity. "Double Door," the second play, is now in rehearsal. The concluding production had not been selected at this writing.

It is the hope of the members of the Theatre eventually to have their own playhouse and to develop on this campus a group which will rank with the leading university players throughout the country.

Until last year, Tulane had no definite dance program. Student dances, a vital part of the social life of any large university, were given only at irregular intervals.

Feeling the need for a more satisfactory arrangement, a group of students met in December, 1936, to form the Tulane Cotillion Club. This organization, composed of sixty students from both Tulane and Newcomb, now plans and promotes all university-wide dances.

Receiving the cooperation of the administration, faculty and student body from its very beginning, the Cotillion Club held two successful dances before the close of the 1936-37 session. During the present school year it was able to secure one of the nation's top-ranking dance orchestras for what turned out to be the largest Homecoming Dance ever held at the university. The complete program for this session consists of four dances and has thus far had an average of 2,000 persons attending each event.

SPORTIN'

Mandeville de Marigny and Alexandre Grailhe, bon vivants, settle their differences under the Duelling Oaks. Among male New Orleanians of the 1800's, duelling was resorted to more than any other form of athletics. The slightest affront brought forth a challenge, which was rarely refused. These "affaires d'honneur" were numerous—it is said that the score of duels was kept like the score of marriage offers of a creole belle.

TULANE

JUDGE RUFUS C. FOSTER
President of the Tulane Athletic Council

Tulane's Green Wave rolled on in athletics in 1937-38!

Significant in the expansion of the University's athletic program was the erection of a permanent addition to the stadium to increase the seating capacity to more than 40,000.

This addition was completed through the cooperation of the New Orleans Midwinter Sports Association, sponsors of the annual Sugar Bowl football classic.

On all fronts, Tulane's intercollegiate teams won the respect and admiration of its followers.

The boxing team repeated its team championship victory in the Southeastern Conference and again furnished two individual titleholders, Cameron Gamble and Joe Brocato.

Basketball was definitely improved, with the team triumphing over several strong opponents.

In tennis, the Green was supreme.

Ernie Sutter, Tulane captain, was again the winner of the national intercollegiate singles title and led his teammates through an unbroken season of intercollegiate matches.

Vincent D'Antoni restored the Wave's golf prestige, winning the Southeastern Conference championship, beating Fred Haas and Lawrence Larcade of L. S. U. in his sweep to the title.

The track team, while not impressive in scoring victories, was loser by the thin margin of a second place in three of the four intercollegiate meets.

Football was of a higher order, Coach "Red" Dawson's 1937 team reflecting its fine coaching. Clemson, Ole Miss, and Colgate were among the teams defeated, while Auburn, Orange Bowl champion, was tied.

Defeats came from Alabama, Southeastern Conference champion; L. S. U., Sugar Bowl selection; North Carolina, Southern Conference champion; and Georgia's surprisingly strong-finishing Bulldogs. Yet in every game the Green Wave furnished gallant competition.

Appos, it seems to repeat, "the Green Wave rolls on."

THE STARTING TEAM AND COACHES

Nineteen thirty-seven saw a mighty Green Wave humbled to a ripple; an auspicious beginning against a tough schedule enlivened the hopes of Tulanians for a conference championship. A two-week road journey was tiring: it was North Carolina that burst the bubble of illusion.

Alabama, Georgia, L. S. U.—they swept over almost in succession. Dawson, disconsolate, likes to remember the triumphs over Clemson, Mississippi College, Colgate, Ole Miss, even the tie with Auburn, likes to forget the rest.

A fine defensive line, hard hitting backfield, exceptionally poor pass defense, and a lack of competent reserves characterized the 1937 Wave. Good coaching and two spring practices helped, but were not enough, for the Greenies lacked a spark plug, a Banker, a Felts, a Bryan to inspire them as in the years gone by. The tally book showed five wins, one tie and four defeats. So the wolves howled!

Half—Tulane 6, 'Bama 0, as the Wave leaves the field. A new stadium filled to capacity.

A season of ups and downs is possibly the best way to describe the '37 football year. Up for eight of their ten games, the Greenies played their best ball in three games they did not win—Auburn, Alabama, and L. S. U. They walked away with everything but the score in the Plainsmen game, and were the victims of poor officiating in the other two. Losses to North Carolina and Georgia were aided along by a let-down resulting from a hard schedule and too much traveling.

Tulane 7—Clemson 0

The Wave got off to a victorious but quite unimpressive start by ekeing out one touchdown for victory over the South Carolinians. Brunner, Wenzel, and Bernie Smith showed well in this opener, with such regulars as John Andrews and Dub Mattis playing consistent ball.

Tulane lacked polish, however, committing some glaring errors, and showed particularly poor defense against passes. The defense, which was to prove the mainstay of the Wave for the remainder of the season, began to function and the Clemsonians took little yardage through the line. Dawson was disappointed.

Tulane 0—Auburn 0

Everybody remembers the Auburn game. Not because of football, but because it was the first football game in the history of Tulane to be rained out. The Monday afternoon affair was a climax to the hardest week of training that the Greenie squad had done in years. The score did not justify either training or Tulane potentialities. The Wave lacked something. They did not play good football, just listless ball; they had no spark-plug to urge them to victory. Several times the Greenies were within scoring distance, but lacked the necessary punch to put it over. Result: 0-0.

In sixty minutes of play Auburn gained from scrimmage a total of thirteen yards and made one first down! The Tulane defense worked perfectly, Ray Miller and Norman Buckner furnishing the aggressiveness that forced the Plainsmen back time and time again. It was the Greenie offense that would not click; Hitchcock was bottled up; Fenton could do nothing; but neither could the Wave's backfield. Elson Goodell, playing at end, and Carl Dailey, a guard, showed up particularly fine. An attempted field goal by Auburn hit the cross bar. The Plainsmen's last minute staving off of a Tulane touchdown saved the day

Tulane 84—Mississippi College 0

This is one of the games that boosted fans' hopes for a conference championship. Everybody looked good; every play clicked; we made better than a point a minute.

The Wave demonstrated some thirty-odd men, with the backfield running wild. Buddy Banker made three touchdowns, and Billy Payne came across with four. The Sophomores shone in the line, and Bruner, Sauer, and Butler stepped lively behind it. Ace thrill of the afternoon was John Andrews' 80-yard return of a kickoff, for the third touchdown of the game. Wave power became apparent, hence the big score that the boys in green piled up. Dawson was jubilant. He smiled.

Tulane 7—Colgate 6

The Green Wave was lucky on this one. Hopelessly outclassed and outplayed in the first half, the Greenies struggled in freezing weather against a stronger foe. In the second period, however, Mattis, Andrews, and the rest of the backfield began to click, and the Hamiltonians, fearing defeat, were defeated.

Dedication of a new stadium and the finis of a five-year schedule no doubt inspired the Wave to greater heights than experienced so far in the season. "Iron Man" Mattis, playing the best game of the season, carried the ball time and again, when substitutes were hurt. John Andrews won the acclaim of the crowd and a mighty cheer for his truly fine defensive play, making, upon one occasion, four tackles in succession. Pulling up its stakes in the last half, the line showed the usual impregnability, and helped more than any other single factor to demoralize the Red Raiders. Dawson was satisfied.

Tulane 0—North Carolina 13

The beginning of the end. This one told the tale. The Green Wave met a football machine at Chapel Hill, a machine, consisting of eleven cogs, each moving metriculously in its orbit, knowing exactly what to do and when to do it. The beautiful precision with which plays were executed, the sureness of defense, surely awed the Greenies into defeat.

Carl Dailey, "Bull" Andrews, and Billy Payne clear the way for "Buddy" Banker, the Greenies 1937 "find"

From the beginning, Tulane played a losing game, struggling against an inhuman group of football gears, each exactly apparent of the situation at all times. Everything the Greenies had failed. Running plays were thrown back, passes knocked down, defense plays riddled. Tulane had nothing to cope with the Tarheels.

An additional week away from New Orleans weakened Tulane; living on strange water, different cooking, a different practice field, all took something physically and mentally from the Greenies. That was the week they spent in Raleigh, practicing at the field of North Carolina State University.

In a scrimmage with State the Louisianians looked fine, beating them by thirty points more than had the University of North Carolina; the Saturday's game told the tale. In the book the Tarheels' statistics seemed small beside the Wave's, but on the gridiron Tulane lacked that scoring punch missed previously in the season. Particularly did the Carolinians' reverses completely fool the Greenies; time and again, Little, Bershak, and others romped around end to push the Tulanians farther and farther back.

A biting cold day slowed Tulane up. They were tired and homesick. They had not had a lot of practice since Colgate. They lost. Brunner showed his heels once or twice, Big Jerry Friederichs smashed some end-around-end plays, but there was no spectacular Wave play. Mattis was hurt, Flowers was hurt. Butler was inexperienced. Tulane bowed to a fine team. It was a melancholy, irritable team that a handful of supporters met at the station Monday night. Dawson was disconsolate.

Tulane 14—Ole Miss 7

Coming back into the win column, the Wave took down the Rebels in an unimpressive game, coming from behind to score after the Mississippians had passed their way to the first touchdown. Mattis and Brunner, out because of injuries suffered at North Carolina and in practice, respectively, watched Billy Payne and Bill Flowers turn in creditable performances. Sensation of the afternoon, however, was Buddy Banker, who romped down the field time and time again, ripping off good gains through Ole Miss' line, heralded "the stone wall of the South."

Tulane's whole line turned in sterling play, with Captain Buckner, Ray Miller, and Jerry Friederichs particularly outstanding. Poor pass defense by Tulane's backfield again accounted for them being scored against.

The Wave's second touchdown was scored over right tackle, right through Ole Miss' All-American left tackle, "Bruiser" Kinard, who was held down all afternoon by good blocking from Ray Miller or Ralph Wenzel. This

Tulane 6—Alabama 9

This was homecoming. This was the illegal kick game. You remember. Trained to the knife's edge, set for the Crimson Tide, Tulane lost to them in the finest football game played locally in many, many years. Alabama, you remember, went on to lose to California in the Rose Bowl.

As the spectators filed home from the Ole Miss game, they were confronted with those little red "Beat 'Bama" signs. There may be some about the campus yet. They foretold a football game in which the Tulane eleven fought its heart out. And lost. More than one tear was shed in the Greenie dressing room after that one.

Alabama won; that was expected, but the game Tulane was to play was not predicted. A heretofore mediocre eleven, rose once to heights of brilliancy not surpassed throughout the rest of the season.

At the opening whistle, both teams dug in their cleats and never did relax sufficiently for the opponent to capitalize upon it. The hard driving of Andrews and Mattis, the fleet heels of Billy Payne, and the fine defense work of the Tulane line characterized the game. The Green Wave's goal line stand will be long remembered by fans. How 'Bama got the ball on Tulane's one-yard line, first down, and netted a gain of minus three yards, is not easily forgotten. Nor that Captain Norman Buckner stopped the Crimson Tidesman three times of the four!

Captain Hall, turning in a fine game also, opposed one of America's finest guards, Captain Leroy Monsky, who unleashed to the limit to block the Tullanian. Ray Miller was the outstanding tackle on the field.

It was a field goal that defeated the Wave. With the score 6-6 in the last quarter, Alabama got the ball on Tulane's twenty-four yard line, and sending in Sanford, substitute end for the job, kicked a field goal that arched beautifully through the uprights. For all practical purposes, this ended the ball game. Development of pictures of the kick showed that 'Bama had had five men in the backfield, which was undeniably illegal, hence the kick was invalid, and the game a tie. Some would believe it so. The officials had missed the extra man, so the score was, and always will be 9-6.

Tulane's coaches protest the field goal that insured Alabama's victory. 'Tain't no use—he didn't see it

Tulane 6—Georgia 7

With the close of the Alabama game, the boys from Tulane had lost something that they could never regain in 1937. They played to the utmost against the Crimson Tide, and in so doing, lost the quality of "fight" so essential. To lose to 'Bama on such a fluke caused a discouragement that the 1937 Green Wave never got over. Particularly apparent was this in the following game with Georgia.

The boys in green left Thursday night with high hopes of avenging the defeat of 1936, but they made mistakes Saturday afternoon. The game represented a letdown after Alabama, and showed it. Particularly poor was the running attack, the line was good, but the backfield just couldn't seem to spot that elusive pass receiver. Mattis shone, and Andrews came through as usual. Hall and Buckner were good. So was Jerry Friederichs, so was Stan Nyhan at quarter. Georgia was not a very impressive game. It disappointed Dawson again.

Tulane 33—Sewanee 7

The game that threw the scare into the Wave. Confident, overconfident, Tulane entered the game with a second and third team to save the regulars. They didn't score. The first team went in. They didn't score either. But Sewanee did. As the half closed, it was a disillusioned Tulane team that trudged into the dressing room trailing Sewanee, 0-7.

The pep talk that ensued during the half was the stormiest that a Greenie has heard in so many a year. The red-headed gentleman was mad, very mad. So Tulane went out and scored 33 points on the Sewanee Tiger, pacifying the red-headed gentleman somewhat.

Tulane 6—L. S. U. 20

The Tiger came down from Tigertown and shattered the Wave into little droplets. The Tiger's passes did it. He passed over Tulane's backfield, lateralled around the ends, flipped 'em across the goal. Rohm was too slippery, Young Bussy too nimble-fingered. The Green Wave came out again on the small end.

A feature of the game, and one play that every fan will remember was John Andrews' interception of one of Rohm's passes and the eighty-yard gallop for a touchdown with Rohm and Morton at his heels. To Andrews goes the credit of making the first and last score of the season; it was he that tallied the marker against Clemson, and again he that closed the season with the line score against the Tiger. Mr. Dawson was noncommittal.

A good old "We want the goal posts," "Well you can't have 'em" fight between students of the two universities reminiscent of those of 25 years ago climaxed and closed the gridiron season for 1937.

CHARLES RUCKER
Genial Yearling Coach

There are many future conference stars in this group of freshmen footballers, outstanding of whom are "Red" Cassibry, Rip Collins, Ed Neal, Fred Gloden and Billy Brinkman. Although their record as a team was nothing to brag about, the spirit was very much in evidence, and Coach Dawson will certainly find several fine players from this year's freshmen.

TOP ROW: Neal, McCollum, Asbell, Faulkner, Blandin, Johnson, Grdina, Groves, Fristoe
SECOND ROW: Day, Morton, Brekke, Means, Cassibry, Collins, Poag, Beltzhoover, Gloden

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Coach Rucker's freshman group was composed of many all-stars hailing from all over the nation, boasting great high school reputations, showing encouraging individual possibilities, but lacking the ability to function as a team.

And therein lies the story behind an unsuccessful season of three defeats in three tries.

Hammond's Strawberry Bowl, turned into a mud puddle by a driving rain that fell continuously before and during the game, was the stage upon which Southeastern Junior College dramatized a 19-0 victory over our charges, who, with the exception of Harley McCollum, Claude Groves, Harry Hays and Red Cassibry, were not charging effectively enough.

Alabama scored next to the tune of 14-7 in the roughest game seen locally in recent years. Harry Hays grabbed off individual honors when, playing with one broken hand, he personally accounted for seventy yards and a score in three totings of the swinepelt. Rip Collins, Groves and McCollum stood out in a line that played great ball.

The Baby Billow lived up to tradition, but overdid it in bowing to L. S. U. 39-0 in the Bengal stadium. Fred Gloden, fine punting prospect, was outstanding, and the tough going afforded an opportunity for Bill Brinkman, Sid Buller, Ernie Blandin, Ed Neal and Collins to show promise under fire.

TULANE BASKETBALL

Surprise of the year was pulled by Ray Dauber in bringing forth a quintet that not only won games but lost in the conference runoff only to the championship team, Georgia Tech. For the first time in years, the Greenie basketballers came through on the black side of the ledger, surprising fans to the extent of coming to see some of the games and placing Tulane in the basketball money of the Southeastern Conference.

Mainstay of the team was Captain Deitrich Neyland, center, who was ably assisted by those two high-scoring teammates, Gene Harmon and Paul Pare. Buddy Jumonville and Kurt Oelschlagel rounded out the squad.

Southern California, journeying southward for Sugar Bowl meet, handed the Wave the first setbacks of the year. A defensive game for the Wave threatened all night, and with Captain Neyland ejected in the second game on four personal fouls, local fans had little to cheer for. Pare and Harmon scored 37 points between them in two nights.

Alabama, just returned from the West Coast and the Rose Bowl game, dropped both ends of a two-game series to Tulane at Tuscaloosa. Gene Harmon couldn't miss and scored 21 points. Oelschlagel played very well and got the ball off the backboard repeatedly. Neyland improved defensively and popped 18 points. Buddy Jumonville took advantage of the Crimson's close guarding of Pare to break loose himself for 15 points in the second game. Pare, held to 10 markers, disappointed those who had come to expect him to score his every shot. The double win placed Tulane in the temporary leadership of the conference.

Perhaps it was this league leading, a new experience for Greenie cage units, that puffed the boys up a bit, but they certainly played overconfidently in dropping a one-point decision to the Millsaps Majors. The game, at any rate, was a thriller. The teams matched goal for goal in the last ten minutes that kept fans standing until the final whistle, three seconds before which, Charley Hegwood had dumped in the clinching two-pointer. Tulane scoring was again limited to the usual four, Pare, Harmon, Jumonville, and Neyland, with Pare's 15 leading the group.

Victory over S. L. I. in their next one appeared to put the Greenies back in stride and they followed this effort with one of the best performances of the year, a smashing 37-22 triumph over the team rated the best ever to come from Georgia Tech and the same team that went on to win the Southeastern Conference title in the tourney a month later. In both of these games, diminutive Paul Pare stole the show. He garnered 23 points one night for the highest individual scoring record of any Tulane man in the last nine years. Things generally began to look brighter for Tulane, especially with Jumonville coming into form, leading all scorers in the S. L. I. game with 16 counters and gaining runner-up honors in the Georgia Tech skirmish with nine.

Ole Miss, led by Country "Bonnie Lee" Graham, two-time conference high scorer and record holder for individual scoring, handed Tulane its first loss of a series to a conference foe. Victor over the Wave in both games, the Mississippians were the only team to defeat the Greenies each time they met, and the only conference team Tulane played that they did not whip at least once. Pare matched Graham's scoring in the first game when each tallied 17 points, but Kinard, Ward and Clay teamed up to score 26 points among them which more than offset what scoring was done by Harmon and Neyland.

The second Ole Miss game was the best game of the year. Two thousand fans stood and cheered and thrilled for the last ten minutes of the game when no team was ever more than one point ahead of the other. As the teams matched shot for shot, the lead changed nine times in the last ten minutes, with Tulane throwing away whatever chances they had—and they were numerous—by their inability to shoot foul shots. Pare was held scoreless in the first half. But Skyline Neyland, playing his best game of the year locally, kept the Greenies in the ball game by scoring 11 of Tulane's 13 points for the half. Brunner played so well at guard, getting everything off the backboard, that Harmon was aided sufficiently for the first time of the season and together they teamed up to hold Graham to but four points for the half.

In the second half, Pare made six points to Graham's eight, but Neyland came back with four more, Harmon with five more besides the two he scored in the first half, and Jumonville tacked on six to keep Tulane always in the game which they dropped by the slim margin of one point, 35-34. With the score 34 to 33, Ole Miss, Harmon and Favre got locked up in one another's arms and wound up on the floor, with only Harmon unwinding enough to get up. After being assisted in a semi-kayeed state from the floor, Favre was called back onto the court to shoot his shot of the double foul called. He made his, as did Harmon, and the final whistle a few seconds later found the score 35-34 in favor of Ole Miss.

Mississippi State was next and they split their series at Starkville, State taking the opener, 41-36, and Tulane the final 36-34. Pare was ejected from one game on four personals for the first time of his life. With Harmon and Jumonville starring, Tulane led all through the game until the last few minutes when State came from far behind to win. The second game was almost a replica of the first, except that the final whistle throttled a desperate State rally with the Wave enjoying a 36-34 lead. Both teams were erratic, with Tulane steadying more often to save their chances. Harmon was outstanding, with Jumonville and Neyland playing next best for the series.

The opener of the Tiger series was featured by the starring debut of Hank Cantwell, who popped six field goals and one foul shot to considerably aid Paul Pare in keeping the Greenies in the ball game. Pare scored 18 points to walk off with starring honors of the night. The crowd of 2,500 saw Tulane lose because of inability to shoot free throws. L. S. U. popped 14 of its 22 free tries while Tulane made but 10 of its 26. Final score: Tigers, 44—Wave, 42.

foul shots in the last minute to ice a game that had been 28-27, L. S. U. favor, before he took his free throws. The score was 9-9 at the half, and only Pare and Neyland had scored one field goal apiece for Tulane. It was seventeen minutes before L. S. U. scored a field goal. Pare scored 11 points for top honors again, but Neyland and Harmon were close behind with seven apiece. Final score: Tigers, 31—Wave, 28.

The Coliseum floor at L. S. U. was to Neyland's liking for he played his best game on it. Scoring 12 points to lead all in the opener, and coming back to win the second game with a beautiful pivot shot in the last seven seconds of play, he gave Tulane a two-point victory. Pare scored 10 points in the first game, and teamed up with Neyland and Harmon to score most of the Greenie points in the final game which Tulane won. Warren Brunner's work in getting the ball off the backboard was outstanding. First game: L. S. U., 42—Tulane, 31. Second game: L. S. U., 39—Tulane, 41.

The next week, the Wave journeyed up to Baton Rouge for the Southeastern Conference tournament. It was here that the quintet put forth its superhuman effort, only to fall before the team it had previously beaten, the one destined to win the championship, Tech.

In the afternoon of the first day, the basketeers turned over a good team from Georgia, then scored that night to defeat Kentucky, defending champs and the team picked to repeat. Upsetting the applecart for the Wildcats disillusioned them about national play later in New York, and seeded the Greenies better than Kentucky, one of the ten ranking teams in the nation.

Perhaps the conquerors of Georgia and Kentucky were a bit cocky, a trifle overconfident, or perhaps they just weren't good enough, but at any rate, the Bulldog quintet swooped down like the wolf on the fold to take the Tulane lambs 44-29, breaking Tulane's dreams of a championship over the team it had whipped scarcely a month earlier. For his sterling play throughout the season, and particularly during the conference in Baton Rouge, Captain Deitrich Neyland was chosen on the all-Southeastern team, at the first-string center position. A dark horse in the Southeastern division had risen to heights, only to fall at the hands of the Engineers from Tech.

Prospects for the coming year are bright. Neyland will be gone, an inestimable loss, but the other lettermen will be back, striving to win that which they lost by a margin in 1938. Coach Ray Dauber coached his last Tulane basketball team in 1938 and showed 'em he could do it. Little Monk Simons will take up where Ray left off.

Although the Wave's mitt team lost three dual matches, won two, and drew one, in addition to losing a twice-won conference crown, they may be said to have had a good season. The loss of light-heavyweight champion Gamble, heavyweight Warrent Jaubert, and lightweight Bill Peak, all of whom were counted upon to come across, wrecked the Wave's hopes of victory in dual-meet and conference competition.

In invading the big ten, 1938's boxing team set a precedent by engaging Wisconsin, but stood up weakly against the team that had just trounced conference champions Louisiana State.

Opening the season against the Maroons of Miss. State, the Greenies bowed to the tune of 5-3, facing stiff competition in the form of an experienced team. Herbert Graf, making his debut in fistiana at the bantam mark, put his man away in the first stanza. George Manteris outpointed his opponent at senior welterweight, and Cal Benedict, middleweight, cut down a tall Stater, to win going away. Highlights for the Mississippians were knockouts of Louis Philips, featherweight; Charles Rogers, junior welter, and Bill Kirchem, heavyweight, who met Moon Mullins, national intercollegiate champ. Other losers for the Wave were George Lopez, lightweight, and Cy Hickey, light-heavy.

Fritz Oakes took the team next to Florida in the absence of Coach Monk Simons, and brought them back, one bout to the bad, for the 'Gators had swept to a 4½-3½ victory. Graf got a draw, Ed Goodell, a newcomer at lightweight, was technically kayoed in the second, and George Manteris and Cal Benedict were the victims of decision, as was Bill Kirchem. Floyd Newlin at the featherweight spot, put up an aggressive battle to come out ahead, five bouts before John Dirmann, light-heavy, did the same thing. Horace Thompson, starting at senior welter, in his first fight knocked out his 'Gator in the second stanza.

Benedict bowed to Steve O'Connell, runner-up in last year's conference competition, while Manteris lost a decision to Jack Long, king of the junior welters.

By the pleasant margin of two victories, the mittmen won the first dual meet of the season by taking into camp the Rebels of Oxford, defeating the Ole Mississippians, 5-3.

Herbert Graf chalked up his third win for the season by downing Bantam McCracken and riding on to take an easy decision. Louis Phillips, to avenge the knockout at the hands of Miss. State, promptly kayoed the Rebel featherweight in the third round, when the Ole Miss coach tossed the towel for a finis. Lopez with Thompson were decisioned, the latter barely hanging on after the encounter with welter champ Steve Wilkerson. Rogers, Dirmann, and Hickey each got the nod in their respective bouts.

Big Bill Kirchem went down before the furious one-round onslaught of Ralph Burns, destined to later in the season win the heavyweight crown.

The Crimson Tide of Alabama again toured to New Orleans, and drew with the Tulane mitt team, 4-4.

Graf started off the fireworks by being knocked out by Gerald Burke, 'Bama's captain, in the first round. Phillips trounced an inexperienced featherweight and had him hanging on at the final bell. Bill Peak, recovered from a foot injury suffered in practice, met Art Fowler, the Tide's slugging light lightweight, and last year's featherweight titlist. Peak floored the champion in the first, kept on top of him in the second, and was almost knocked out in the last round. Fans still talk of the splendid come-back of the hard-hitting conqueror of Phillips for the 1937 crown. As 'Bama forfeited the junior welter match, Charlie Rogers climbed into the ring, was announced victor, and climbed out. Horace Thompson, dropping his second in a row, kept his feet, but rather shakily, for three rounds against Paul Cusimano. John Dirmann, meeting the ambidextrous Cy Canzoneri, scored at long range to take the bout by a slight margin. Cy Hinckey lost a close decision, but Bill Kirchem slapped and pushed a low-crouching Tidesman to win the heavyweight match and tied the meet score.

Next came the L.S.U. matches in Baton Rouge, whereat Tulane was given the decisions, and whereat the referee was chased from the building by irate State supporters, unable to abide by an official's unbiased decision.

Graf lost a decision to Bohrer, likewise Newlin to Michael. Maurice Geldert, Coach Simons' new lightweight find, drew with Rosenthal, while Thompson and Hickey eked decisions. Manteris lost to Hester Daniel, later S.E.C. champ, and Dirmann took J. L. Golsan, another S.E.C. champ to-be. The fans went wild with disgust at the decision and when Kirchem beat Trouchasset and was given the nod, they stormed the referee, who took refuge behind protecting athletic officials and football players. It was several weeks before the hurrah died down in Tigertown.

Entering the conference competition some ten days after the L.S.U. meet, the Tulane boxing team lost the crown it had worn for the past two years. Cameron Gamble had resigned from school shortly after announcing his marriage; Warren Jaubert was ineligible scholastically; Bill

Peak was out again, this time with a broken nose. Even Bill Kirchem had an injured proboscis that prevented the Greenie heavy from competing. Thus hopes vanished for winning the Southeastern Conference championship three times in a row. The rest of the squad was on the whole inexperienced, but game, so it was much to the credit of the newcomers to win second place in the running, tagging behind L.S.U. but beating such powerful squads as Ole Miss and Alabama.

Graf was the only winner for the Wave, coming thru in fine style to take the bantam title. Putting Burke of Alabama away in a clean-cut victory, the Wave's bantam met Bohrer of L.S.U. and losing the first two championship rounds by a good margin, came out at the bell of the third and pitched right after right to score a knockout. His opponent was carried to the showers, and Graf given the belt. Former champion Rentz of Florida did not return to defend his title.

Michael of L.S.U. poured the power into Louis Philips in the semi-final round, and Philips slugging with the Tiger, met his Waterloo and landed on the canvas in the third. Michael lost to Graham of Florida for the title. Fowler of Alabama, returning titleholder, was eliminated by Graham in the other semi-final bout.

Maurice Geldert of Tulane lost the semi-final bout to Long of Miss. State, who was whipped in the finals by Frederickson, lightning fast tapper from Georgia. Joe Brocato, last year's titleholder from Tulane, was lost through graduation.

Hester Daniel of L.S.U. whipped George Manteris in the finals of the junior welter division in a slow amateurish fight, winning the crown by a small margin. Former champ Jack Long of Florida was put out in the first round by Cusimano of Alabama, who later lost to Daniels.

Bourgeois of L.S.U. hit heavily in the first two rounds to win over Horace Thompson of Tulane, only to lose easily to Steve Wilkerson of Ole Miss, returning champion.

John Dirmann, mainstay of the Greenies, lost to Joe Fields of L.S.U. in the finals of the middleweight division. The bout was close, the Tiger getting the nod amid derision from spectators. Cameron Gamble was last year's champion.

Lorenz of the Alligator State took Cy Hickey, Wave light-heavy, in another close bout, only to lose by a knockout in the final match to J. L. Golsan, who toyed with the Floridian until the second round, then uncorked a powerhouse right to give him the sleeper. With Wilkerson, Golsan was the only repeating titleholder.

Ralph Burns of Ole Miss knocked out Nick Accardo, who fought his first fight for the Greenies, in the first round of their heavyweight contest. Accardo was out-classed by the slugging Mississippian and dazed from the first bell. Burns went on to win the title by eking out a decision over Little of Tennessee. This was the only really unwelcome decision in the fan's estimation.

Coming somewhat as an anti-climax, the bout with Wisconsin was the most severe loss for Tulane. Boxing L.S.U. here Monday, whom they beat, the Northerners journeyed home, and met the Tulane aggregation the following Saturday. George Manteris was the only winner for the Wave. Graf and Philips were unable to make the trip for scholastic reasons, and Newlin, Geldert, Thompson, Benedict, Dirmann, Hickey and Kirchem all lost by decision to the Wisconsinians.

Prospects are none too bright for the coming year, with Graf, Philips, Newlin, Manteris and Benedict going from the squad through graduation, but sophomores and remaining lettermen, including Peak and Jaubert will be returning, giving a nucleus upon which Coach Simons may build the dark-horse of the 1939 conference meet.

TRACK

Fritz Oakes' track team competed in four meets and a conference run off in 1937, but unfortunately won none. However, the Wave cindermen put on a better season than anybody expected, because the gross lack of material promised little, but resulted in a good showing in the sprints and hurdles, and some interesting marks in the quarter and pole vault.

Principal lack was in distance men. Taking other events by good margins, each time the Greenies seemed about to win a meet, then they were hopelessly outclassed in the half, mile and two mile runs, so each time they lost. The field events, discus, javelin, and shot particularly were a weak spot for the 1937 Greenies also, Coach Oakes having no competent men to fill the breach left by the graduation of Nussbaum, Freese, Simons and others.

A really fine relay team satisfied the record-yearning fans, however, when Billy Payne, Craig Roth, Harry Waugh, and Tom Payne set out and stepped the mile in 3:19.9 or so. They placed second in the conference meet at Birmingham.

Opening the season against Ole Miss at Oxford, the tracksters took six firsts to the Rebels seven, Kohl and Waugh scoring double firsts, and the Payne brothers taking one-two in the quarter for Tulane. The relay team took the mile in stride for the remaining honor, winding up the meet 60-52, with the Greenies on the small end.

Miss. State was the next to set back the Greenies, to the tune of 61-56, where Tulane came through again in the hurdles, George Kohl taking both events, and Harry Waugh again leading in both sprints. An upset over Tom Payne in the quarter and still lack of distance and weight men accounted for the narrow loss.

Eighteen Wavemen journeyed to Tuscaloosa to bow to the Crimson Tide to the tally of 65-51. Besides the sprints, hurdles, and relay, the Greenies came through in the half, pole vault, and quarter. Things were looking up.

But the Tigers from Baton Rouge humbled the Wave, 72-45, making but one, a clean sweep of the weight events. A freshman meet held dually stole the show, with Millard, Tulane's White hope, taking first in shot, discus, and javelin.

The conference featured Tulane in sixth position, earning exactly as many points as Forrest Towns, Georgia hurdler, did individually, 16. The Wave was satisfied with three seconds, a fourth and two fifth places.

With the coming of Millard White from the freshmen, comes the news of Tom Payne's withdrawal from school, and still no news of distance runners. On the whole, track outlook is dark for 1938.

The cinderteam produced several standout stars in 1937, particularly in the sprints and hurdles. The relay team was one of the best in the conference, placing in every meet. Distance runners and field-event men were sadly lacking, however, overbalancing the team to the losing side of the tally book, but Nineteen Thirty-eight bids fair to show track again as a major winning sport at Tulane.

Baseball came back to Tulane with a bang for the first time since its abandonment as a varsity sport in 1930.

A poor season and lack of interest caused the diamond sport's demise seven years ago. This year's club had none too good a season, but the interest was certainly in evidence. And when a group of athletes, led by Norman Buckner, put in a strong bid for the return of the sport, the student body and many faculty members greeted the game with enthusiasm.

Four games were played with L.S.U. And what a series. In toto, it required 11 hours and 35 minutes. In the first game alone, which required 2 hours and 55 minutes for its completion, there were 8 home runs, 4 triples, 5 doubles, 30 hits off 5 pitchers, 30 runs, 7 errors, and about 2 mental boners apiece, not to mention 19 strikeouts and 16 walks.

Errors picked up in the second game when they rose to the new high for 6 for each aggregation. With time being sliced to 2 hours and 35 minutes, hits fell off to 18. The third game saw errors hold its own at 12, and hits gain 3 points to a comfortable 21. With every other phase soaring to new highs, innings took its turn in the finale and rose to 12. A 7-6 thriller justified the action, and left fans hungry for more in 1938.

Buckner, Tiedemann, Blessey, Bryan, Dexheimer and Montgomery were outstanding, and Bucky Bryan, Wiltz Ott, Manteris and Blessey were the home-run hitters. Mattis' pitching was very good at times, erratic at others.

GOLF

Although defeated in all of their matches, the Greenie Golfers nevertheless won the Southeastern Conference crown.

Vincent D'Antoni, star strokesman for the Wave, came through in fine style by winning all of his matches and finally annexing the conference title.

George Turpie, of Audubon Club, coached the team, which included Charles Janvier, Norwood Hingle, Jr., Frank Moore, Robert Monstead, captain, and D'Antoni. Most practice was done on the Audubon Course, the players going out to swing whenever time and weather allowed.

In the first match of the season against L.S.U. the green linksmen journeyed to Baton Rouge to fall easy prey to the Tiger, Janvier, Moore and Hingle coming out on the small end, with D'Antoni trouncing Fred Haas, Jr., in the feature match, to garner the Wave's only tally.

At a return engagement with the Tigertowners, the Greenies fared better, Monstead coming through all-even with Paul Leslie, and D'Antoni romping over Haas again with a par 67.

Oklahoma told the same story: Bobby Monstead finished all-even with Bill Simpson, and Vincent D'Antoni took Oklahoma's ace, Bill Craig, for the only points.

In the championship matches, Janvier qualified with D'Antoni, but lost out in the first round. The latter was left to fight it out with six L.S.U. Tigers for the crown, and in so doing, he whipped Fred Haas, then Canadian Amateur Champ, as well as Lawrence Larcade, who had freshly beaten Western Amateur Champ, Paul Leslie. The Tulanian came through with flying clubs to cinch the title, giving the conference championship to the Greenies.

Sweeping through a fine field in the National Intercollegiates at Oakmount, Pennsylvania, D'Antoni seemed headed for a national crown, but the sure strokes of Fred Haas bowled him over in 32 holes.

With Janvier elected captain for the coming year, and many freshmen practicing more regularly, the Green Wave seems destined to have a banner year for 1938.

EXTREME LEFT: Guy Cheng, former Chinese Davis Cup star and Tulane's number four man

The men in white came through again for a successful season, winning all but one match, which resulted in a tie. In an extra-season contest, however, the racquetters bowed to a superior North Carolina team, October 23, the same day that the Green Wave met defeat from Carolina's football machine. The loss of Captain Ernie Sutter, nucleus of the team through graduation, resulted in this defeat of the Greenies.

Warming up with City Park and New Orleans Lawn Tennis Club groups, the net team caught stride in conference play by winning both singles and double matches in the Texas invitation tournament, trouncing Alabama, Furman, L. S. U., Texas, and Rice, then embarking on a mid-western tour taking over Southwestern, Western State Teachers, and Northwestern, and splitting a match with Kenyon. The grand slam came as the Southeastern Conference title was annexed early in March.

Captain Ernie Sutter, last of the tennis dynasty that has ruled Tulane courts these years, was ably assisted by Joe Abrams, number two singles player, Billy Westerfield, Donald Doyle, Guy Cheng, and Barney Phelps. Sutter's clean strokes and effective lobs made him one of the most dangerous players in intercollegiate tennis, and stroked him to the national title of the college courts. Abrams teamed with Sutter to take the doubles matches in the Southeastern and Southwestern Conference tournaments.

For the coming year, Coach Pare will have to reconstruct his team from Abrams, Westerfield, Cheng, Phelps, and Doyle. Prospects are darker than they have been in years, but the netmen have always come through, finishing in the first flight every season. Matches carded next season include another mid-western tour, as well as conference contests.

Recent intercollegiate rankings released by the Associated Press place Captain Sutter number one and Abrams number thirty. Tennis furnishes one of the brightest sport outlooks at Tulane.

THE WHY OF IT

Newcomb girls learn as freshmen that a healthy body harbors a clean healthy mind. Meh lady takes much pride in the fact that she made the varsity basketball or hockey team. Thus, it is not surprising that Newcomb's athletic fields are never vacant.

MISS FLORENCE A. SMITH
Director of Athletics

This year, the three new gym teachers—Elizabeth Thompson, Joyce Palmer, and Elizabeth Westerfelt—under the direction of Florence Ambrose Smith are paving the way for bigger and better activities at Newcomb and have made many favorable additions to the curriculum. Soccer was played as a major sport, with inter-class competition at the end of the quarter. Several of the dancing classes are attracting a larger number of both alumnae and students. Even the 8:30 A.M. modern class has shown a marked increase in attendance. Tennis offered for three quarters always arouses such enthusiasm and the girls have shown marked improvement under Coach Emmet Pare. Elizabeth Buxton and Jane Crais are Newcomb's two most accomplished players. Newcomb's lovely tile pool offers many opportunities for both beginners and advanced swimmers. A form of recreation new in the physical education department, is the swimming club consisting of thirty members who meet one night each week to play games and swim with Miss Thompson as faculty advisor.

On winter afternoons hockey holds the interest of Newcomb athletes. This session the juniors have taken the inter-class championship for their third successive title. This, however, has not been without a struggle, for the present senior team has each year played a tie game, thereby necessitating a second to decide the victory.

When hockey ends, basketball takes the limelight. The alumnae and students have many workouts, each team aiming to conquer the other at their annual clash. And for the past few years the alumnae have proved that they're not too old to whip the Newcombites.

An eventful day in the baseball season is that of the faculty-varsity game which usually gathers many a student spectator. The game this year promises to be a much closer one with the faculty keeping in trim and playing together at their recreation hour every week. The year round schedule is filled with numerous other activities—among which may be found: archery, fencing, bowling, badminton, deck tennis, ping-pong, and volley-ball. Tournaments are held in the various sports where girls may step out as individuals showing their ability to compete for the college championship. By a most efficient system the girls earn points and on Trophy Day they are presented awards greatly cherished and well deserved for their efforts.

PHI LAMBDA KAPPA FRATERNITY

General Andrew Jackson and his aide-de-camp Edward Livingston organize the New Orleanians for the Battle of New Orleans. Under these expert leaders, the top hats, creoles, "cajuns," pirates, and "niggers" decisively defeated the highly trained English forces. Last year the Tulane Law School commemorated another of Mr. Livingston's great organizations—a legal one. He drafted the Louisiana Civil Code of 1825.

We believe in the tenets of abiding truth which is the guiding star of our order. We believe in the helping hand which is the bar which binds us in our calling. We believe in the unity of service to one another which lends to the weary a word of cheer, to the poor a portion of our share, to the weak a meed of pity, to the stricken a voice of comfort, to the old a memory of youth and to the wayfarer a help along to the journey's end.

Our emblem will always be an inspiration to duty, remembering it stands for excellence in all things, purity of purpose and honesty of method and effort, with the blessing of an Alma Mater upon each who wears her badge of honor. May our lives lie among the stars which light the way to the great mystery and may we so live that when we reach the end of the road we may find the veil, which parted leads to the heights of everlasting peace.

The Tulane Young Men's Christian Association is the only student organization that is campus-wide in its scope. The program, carried on and developed by the students under the supervision of the General Secretary, is designed to give expression to the religious, social and recreational needs of the students.

The Freshman Y.M.C.A. is an organization for first-year students who are interested in the work of the Y.M.C.A. It has proved very valuable training for membership and officers of the Senior Y.M.C.A.

The Board of Directors gives continuity and supervision to the work and program of the Tulane Young Men's Christian Association.

The International Relations Club is an active discussion group of international problems. It has its own library, which was donated and is kept up-to-date by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. The Organization also receives a number of international newspapers, pamphlets, etc. Each member is given the title of ambassador from one of the various countries and represents that country in all discussions of the club.

The Oratorical and Debating Council is composed of all varsity debaters in the University and members of the Faculty Committee. The Council exercises complete control over all debating. It conducts the annual tryouts for the Varsity Team and sponsors debating contests for freshmen, offering a $10.00 prize for the outstanding candidate.

The council for 1937-38 arranged an extensive home schedule and two debating tours. The home schedule included contests with University of California, Stanford, Columbia, Marquette, S. Carolina, and Emory.

The first team went to California, engaging in ten contests en route. The two most outstanding debaters traveled to Boston, meeting Alabama, Yale, Harvard, Princeton, S. Carolina, and Sewanee in forensic contests.

Prepare For War With a Navel Reserve

Dean Announces Unit Will Be Established Next School Session

Dean Marten ten Hoor announced yesterday the establishment of a U. S. Navel Reserve unit at Tulane beginning next autumn. Purpose of the unit will be to save up a supply of navels to remedy those shot off soldiers in future wars.

The local one will be a well-rounded unit, centrally located, with general headquarters slightly elevated from surrounding terrain. Colonel Solar Plexus will have complete charge of the unit.

"This Navel business pains me in the middle," ten Hoor said, "but it may work out in the end, as everything else does. Next thing they may be taking our stomachs. O well, let's hope for the chest."

Officials of the Reserve sent piles of literature to the university explaining what a touchy subject the unit is with most people.

Motto of the Navel: "You may beat us in the end but we've got you in the middle."

Monk Simons:

Say, Mister Monk, how about letting us in on the secret formula of that oil compound you put in your hair? The girls are attracted to it just like flies. We know you can handle the girls, but how do you handle the flies?

Mister Monk, we want some girls too. Just put the oil combination down and slip it along to us. And we'll just slip along also. We sure go for that sheen, old boy.

Oil right!

Paul.

Cotillion Club Plans Another Stinkerino; Need New Club House

LATE NEWS FLASHES

FIND BABE IN ARMS

A pretty senior Newcomb student who had been missing for several days was located early this morning.

After frantic searching on the part of Miss Manychins she was found, as is so often the custom, safely in the arms of the law. His name is Patrolman Murphy.

FLASH:

Calwine Benedict is NOT in jail this morning.

BUCKNER FIGHTS OVER PRICES

A near fist-fight arose in the cafeteria yesterday when Norman Buckner complained to Ellis Robbert that the prices were too low. Buckner accused Robbert of "practically giving away the food."

Buckner had ordered a slice of meat, rice, peas, and coffee, and was astounded when the bill added up to only three dollars.

D. T.'s SEIZE STUDENTS

Delta Tau initiated more new members than any other fraternity at Tulane, latest dispatches show. The D. T.'s get more students than ever.

PROFS SWOON

Three engineering professors swooned in classes yesterday as Bob Morris walked in with hair combed and face shaven.

SAM INJURED

Sam, head of noted student hangout, and twenty customers were injured last Saturday night when the entire group fell in a faint as Steve Moonson, noted collegian playboy, walked in and paid cash for a drink.

Bourbon Gay States "Anything Goes"— Even Joe Seiferth

In its usual knock-down-drag-out manner the Cotillion Club will present its annual dine, dance, and drink party next Saturday night in the Tulane gymnasium. As usual, also, the party will be an awful, awful success. Awful.

Bourbon Gay, adviser to the club, will follow his custom of having no rules or regulations whatsoever. "We want a real stink this time and it's gonna smell like hell," Bourbon stated.

An elaborate floor show has been planned for the intermission by Eddie Owen, member of the Enjoyment-Execution Committee. Baby Doll Peacock will give her impression of a lady bathing, which she promises to be very revealing; Amy Smith will impersonate a two-legged piano, while her latest suitor plays on her; and Elaine Rester will tell smutty jokes about her experiences with Wolf Owen.

That internationally famous orchestra, The Tulanians, will provide what THEY call music, while Boutine Tobin entertains with her adenoids, and her other things we needn't mention.

Drinking will be restricted to one pint per person minimum and there will be very slight entrance charge of $6 per couple and $5.95 per stagger.

Commenting upon these entrance charges, Owen stated, "We are forced to have these prices to pay for our new clubhouse—one of Chic Sale's new standard two-holers."

Don't Read This— It's An Editorial

This is an editorial to end all editorials. They pain me in the end, anyway. I'm sick of this job. Every week I (the editor) either write a lot of pleasant hooey about some faculty member so maybe I can get a good grade from him; or write about some choir or organization so I can get free tickets to their functions; or compliment some dean or professor on something they did which really ain't worth a damn and nobody cares whether it happens or not. It's all a pain in the neck.

If I told the truth about a few things happening around here I'd get kicked out. So all I tell are lies—and keep my job. The libraries are acute, the parking problem is acute, some of the classes are acute, President Harris' secretary is a-cutesy—but do I say these things? No! If I did the Presy might fire her.

What this school needs is more oomph! How can we make time with the Newcomb gals without oomph! There should be a course in How to Neck. A lot of us kiss a girl and then don't know where to go from there. Plenty of them tell us, and in no cuddling tones, but . . . there are others.

What this school needs is more co-eds. What this school needs is higher prices in the cafeteria, we're getting too much for our money. What this school needs is less of I'll have more time to write such and such.

What this paper needs is another

The Twaddler

(These are reprints of several items which appeared during the previous weeks.)

All wedding plans cancelled, Amy Smith is now doing business at the same old stand. The brunette Amy and the whitehaired Baby Doll have C. C. Sucker Bass in a quandry. He doesn't know whether to take vanilla or chocolate.

Boutine Tobin, a Kappa pledge, bears the Pi Phis no grudge. Clad in a nightgown and raincoat, she was doing the big apple with a bunch of Pi Phis on the lot adjoining Tony's.

Bob Morris shaved last week.

Stanley Ray tears himself away from a mirror long enough to court Frances Colens. But while he primps Buster Curtis is leading the "ladye faere" to the levee.

Kitty Laidlaw isn't returning to Newcomb. She either got wise to John Arthur or got fed up with him.

Charlotte Hardie
One hundred forty.

The only brass ring Bill Davis ever got from Newcomb Malone's merry-go-round is the one he wears through his nose.

Sharing your roommate's clothes is a fine thing—sometimes. But on Monday Peggy Weaver was shivering so hard her teeth sounded like they were playing ping-pong. Reason: Pete Porter was wearing the one and only petticoat.

He: "Do you know what the burglar who broke into the Deke house got?"

Him: "Yeah . . . pledged."

Since Uncle Gus Schumann has forsaken the notorious Beanery the football team has nothing to complain about now but the coaching staff.

Poor Newton Smith has lost his girl And doesn't know where to find her. Leave her alone and she'll come home Wagging her . . . . .

With The Grads

By X. Hale Boggs

Letters from alumni have just been pouring in telling how much they like this column. I would quote from them but I can't find it.

Congratulations to Oscar Whittle, '23, and his wife and two kids. Oscar married last week in Virginia, where he is a noted producer.

Well, that's about all the news this week. Don't forget the Homecoming game next year, old grads.

Ain't this column funny!

IN SOCIETY

By Betsy Mess

Maybe all of you have wondered why I write this column every week—you must surely know I don't get paid for such tripe. Well, it's this way. By listing all the parties and describing them, everyone who reads it thinks I was there and say, "Ain't dat a popular fluff?" To tell the truth, I've hardly been to any, which is lucky for me. Besides, I can harm the fluffs I don't like by leaving out their names from the list of "who was there."

PRET-TEA AWFUL

Last Tuesday the faculty members and their wives had their regular monthly partea and it was terrible as usual. The wives served tea to the faculty, the faculty served dirty jokes to themselves and a cop served summons to the deans. President Harris was there wearing a near-white shirt.

FRIENDS MEAT

Thirty pretty Newcomb guests were cutting up at the Butchers Brawl last Saturday night at the Roosevelt Hotel.

SUN-DAY

Those weekly sun-bathing parties on the roof of Newcomb's gym which have proved so delightful to Betas in their attic with telescopes found a large group of girls sunning themselves Thursday. It was a backwards party, so observers say. Miss Anna Many, dean of women, hopes that soon all her girls will get a little son.

Uptown Freed After Brawl

Miller Uptown, head of the Student Council Treasury (by $22), was today released from the Third Precinct jug on $25,000 bond. The bond was furnished by policemen stationed in the jug—they would have paid even more to get rid of him so great was the rumpus he caused.

A notorious ne-er-do-well, Uptown was incarcerated last night after a two-hour barroom brawl which took place in one of the more infamous sections of the Vieux Carre, the prexy's usual hangout. The brawl arose when Uptown tried to beat up two sailors so as to get their negro dates.

Although already accompanied by three shady ladies, eye-witnesses said Uptown was so intoxicated he liked the looks of the sailors' dates.

A fight ensued and when the harness bulls were summoned Uptown fled. The bulls later found him calmly resting in a nearby gutter, yelling nasty songs.

When arrested the Tulane prexy told the bulls, "It wasn't any use bringing him to the clink, for he could pop the cork off any jug."

Jail House Janes Are Given Phones

"It's a Phony Idea, but We Aim to Please," Says
Dean Mutler.

"We aim to please" has become the motto of the Neckumbe authorities, and pursuing this idea, individual telephones have been installed in every cell of the fluffatory. Henceforth, when a telephone call is received, the lucky fluff will only have to mount the escalator to her room, then jaw with her man while reclining on her downy bunk.

It has been so arranged that more than one call may be made at one time and the inmates of the fluffatory can listen in to whatever calls they wish. This is designed to be a great help to Sophie Neckumbe who has designated certain frails to listen in, so that no usable gossip can escape.

All medics and barristers, barring none, crow loudly on Saturday night.

PROTECT YOUR EYES WITH AN I. E. S. LAMP

It's an astonishing fact that forty college students in every hundred wear glasses or should be wearing them—and in nearly every case this defective vision can be traced to eye-strain caused by poor lighting. Your eyes can be damaged by poor lighting—sometimes permanently—before you realize the cause.

For studying, reading or games, eye safety demands more than "just a lamp." You need one that provides an ample amount of light at just the right height and spread, shadowless, glareless and restful—exactly the light these I. E. S. ## School Offers Roughs Life of Rileys

Do you want four years of ease and luxury? Four years of life comparable to that of the student prince? All you have to do is have the ability to tote a hunka swinepelt from one end to the other of an elongated checkerboard or kick the teeth out of another piano mover before he does the same to you. You will be immediately offered an excellent position with the university's happy little group of bone-crushers. From then on it's a life of ease. You live in a beautiful modernistic penthouse, eat three, four or five excellent meals a day (depending on how many teeth you can kick out), sleep, rest and enjoy the life of Riley.

A congenial and affectionate boss, short hours, easy work and high wages complete the attractiveness of the offer. We can think of nothing contributing more toward the development of character, high ideals and a moral and upright life than this truly inviting offer which the school makes annually to the youth of America.

THE REASON WHY

That MOLLOY-MADE covers have been used on so many of the nation's leading annuals over a long period of time is testimony to the fact that they really do represent more value.

The JAMBALAYA, like many other leading annuals, started using MOLLOY-MADE covers "away back when"—and the MOLLOY trademark on the cover of this 1938 issue is the best evidence of an eminently satisfactory standard of quality and service throughout the years.

Dear Dad:

It's high time to hit the hay, but, having borrowed a portable from one of the boys, I'm taking advantage of the opportunity to bang out a few words to let you and Mother know I'm still alive and kicking.

Perhaps I shouldn't say kicking, for the fact is, I haven't any kick coming, although I'm getting a great kick out of this Travelers Home Office School for Agents.

Dad, we made no mistake when we decided on my coming to this school. I can hardly wait to get home and get started, for I feel that insurance is the right work for me, and The Travelers the right company. The instructors here certainly know their stuff, and they know how to put it across. The boys in the class are a fine crowd, most of them college men. They have a different attitude than you find in college, though: They all are here for a purpose and they intend to get out of this school everything they can. There were six classes graduated last year, and their records in the field have been excellent. Something tells me that if they can do it, I can.

We don't waste much time here, what with classes all day and assignments to work on practically every night. But that's as it should be: We came here to become insurance men, and we're going to be insurance men! I think it's the best investment we ever made. Observe that I say "we", for I'll bet my golf bag that I can pay you back the money you spent to send me here within two months after I'm home. And it will come out of commissions earned from Life and Accident policies!

Love to Mother. I'll write again as soon as I can.

Affectionately,

JOE

P.S. Show this to Bob—he might be interested in this course.

This is an exact copy of a letter written by a young man attending The Travelers Training School in Hartford to his dad.

This Training School at Hartford is maintained entirely by our Company at a very heavy expense to equip young men coming out of colleges and universities in the fundamentals and economics of the Insurance business. The School is entirely free to the students. Young men from Universities throughout the United States attend this School, recognizing that there is no business or profession without the investment of capital that will yield as high an income and as satisfactory an income as a trained man in the insurance business.

Those who graduate from Tulane, more especially from the College of Commerce and from the College of Law, if interested, should get in touch with Mr. F. W. Sinclair, Manager of The Travelers Insurance Company for Louisiana and Mississippi, for particulars. Please do not arrange an interview unless you are serious in reference to your life's work. It matters but little where a young man is at the start, but it matters a great deal ten years thereafter.

PLAQUEMINES PARISH

PLAQUEMINES PARISH was first settled over 250 years ago. Since that time productive farms have grown in number and development has continued until today this section is sharing in the greatest era of progress in all its history. Oil, sulphur, agriculture, horticulture, highways, schools and an unflagging civic spirit are making Plaquemines Parish an outstanding community in this State and Nation.

Under plans now being developed by the L. S. U. Experimental Station and the Department of Agriculture, Plaquemines Parish Easter Lily production can supply the entire Nation's demand of about 2,000,000 bulbs.

Free factory sites on navigable inland waterways are offered by Plaquemines Parish to encourage location of additional seafood plants. The large Parish coastal area abounds in oysters and shrimp, which furnish a growing industry worth millions yearly to the people of the Parish and investors canning and marketing these products.

Facilities for transportation by railroad and hardsurfaced highways on both the east and west river banks in this Parish, besides hundreds of millions of navigable bayous and arms of the sea afford unexcelled transportation between New Orleans and foreign ports and offer ideal opportunities for the location of large industries, which may draw from a combination of oil, gas, sulphur, salt and lime shell deposits within easy reach of water and land transportation.

There are eight or more salt domes in this Parish, six of which are producing oil and one sulphur, and the others are in the process of further exploration and development work.

Plaquemines has a model highway system on both sides of the river and every section of the Parish is easily accessible to New Orleans. There is a constant flow of traffic over these highways by thousands of tourists in addition to those who drive for pleasure or whose business makes the use of these highways necessary.

The school system of the Parish has developed along most modern lines with consolidated schools, large modern buildings, free school books and bus transportation and all conveniences.

Plaquemines has the smallest outstanding bonded debt of any parish in the state in comparison with its total assessed valuation; and the Parish property tax rate is as low as any in the State of Louisiana. Tax exemption offered to new industries in Plaquemines Parish to encourage capital to locate here and employ local labor wherever possible.

The vast acreage under cultivation in the orange and citrus industry, while it produces a valuable annual crop, has not reached its full potentiality. Thousands of acres are yet available for this lucrative enterprise.
